Second announcement

NKS-B FOREST seminar - Towards improved understanding of radionuclide transfer in forests and preparedness to handle contaminated forests

Deadline for submission of abstracts has been extended to 22 August!

7-8 October 2008 in Helsinki, Finland

Organised by Radiation and Nuclear Safety Authority, Finland; Finnish Forest Research Institute; the Swedish Defence Research Agency and Institute for Energy Technology, Norway.

The seminar will provide a forum for sharing updated information on radionuclides in forests and on methods for mitigation of harms from radionuclide contamination to forestry. The seminar participants are also invited to discuss future collaborative approaches covering forest radioecology and forest management and other topics as agreed.

More information on this seminar can be found here.

Second announcement

NKS-B NordThreat seminar - Emergency preparedness seminar to highlight similarities and differences between national threat assessments.

Note new date for seminar!

30-31 October 2008 in Oslo, Norway

Organised by the Norwegian Radiation Protection Authority, Radiation and Nuclear Safety Authority, Finland; the Swedish Radiation Safety Authority and the Icelandic Radiation Protection Institute

The seminar will facilitate the exchange of information and opinions and provide a basis for enhancing networks, especially between research communities and emergency preparedness communities.

More information on this seminar can be found here.
